

A person guilty of cheating in the taxi driver's examination in accordance with section 246a of the Act on Transport Services shall be prohibited from participating in a taxi driver's examination for a fixed term of six months.

Mobile phones, headphones or other communication or recording equipment, or materials or equipment that can be used to complete the examination fully or partially by cheating or copy the examination questions or otherwise transmit them to other parties, cannot be used in the taxi driver's examination. The equipment listed above cannot be taken into the examination area, either. The following is considered cheating: Talking with a person other than a member of the service provider's personnel during the examination.

Using or attempting to use the means or equipment listed above that are prohibited in the examination area of the taxi driver's examination is considered cheating. Copying and recording the examination or parts thereof by any means is also considered cheating. In addition, bribing or attempting to bribe a member of the service provider's personnel is considered cheating.